on the road, and traffic deaths have declined steadily to 182 in 1953. He noted that the 31 men stationed in parts of entry also help in law enforcement.

Public Works.—The state has constructed almost six million dollars worth of buildings in the three years, "all paid for." The department of public works has built 1,100 structures averaging $75,265, and its institutional fund contracts averaging $35,888.

"Highways," he said, "I've seen them all. They are all good, adding that the construction of the highway board setup appears to be diminishing." From July 1, 1951, to Dec. 31, the highway department has processed 210 contracts totaling $10,421,000, and the down-town funds which profit from them have been increased 30 per cent.

Public Welfare.—As a result of the new law, general fund expenditures for public welfare decreased from five million dollars in 1950 to 4,610,000 in 1953, while public welfare eligible population decreased around 15 per cent. Aid to dependent children is down to 726 fewer families as a result of a crackdown on deserving fathers.

Administrative costs, the department has had 104 labor disputes referred to it in the three years, and 98 per cent were settled without work stoppages. Workmen's compensation and unemployment compensation increased 372 safety recommendations made to plants.

Land Department.—Cash sales have totaled $104,210,000, and the down-town funds which profit from them have been increased 30 per cent.

Surplus.—The state had a general fund surplus of $100,000 at the end of 1950, and with new laws, has a surplus for the end of 1953. He said he realized that many disagreed with his position on the surplus, but those who called the money on hand at the end of the year a "surplus" did not understand it in a different language than he did.

"The 10 million dollars on hand last July 1," he said, "was merely a bookkeeping balance." He said the new law would have been better for the 1952 legislature to transfer four million dollars to the permanent building fund rather than reduce taxes, but that since it refused to do so, he was glad the income tax was reduced.

Two Marines Gain Honors For Riot Aid

TOKYO, Jan. 5 (UPI)—Two marines mentioned in a Japanese newspaper as the Americans who are saving lives in a holocaust at the imperial gates.

The marines, Pfc. Makio G. Pitts, 20, and Pfc. W. H. McElroy, 20, Perkins, Pa., will be honored tomorrow by the Tokyo police department.

Only clue

With only a blurred news photograph as a clue, police in Pittsburgh are trying to identify a day, looking for the young acrobats who died and injured women children from the crowd gave first aid and performed. A photograph showed a marine a Japanese policeman carrying a person from the crowd of "over 300,000" which broke loose in the crowd. The frenzied scene that killed 15 persons and more than 60.

Executive Check
Executive check through all units established Pitts and McElroy, the unidentified men credited by eye witness as being an unaided group of metropolitan police chief, Tunku, will give them scrolls of honor and a sword in their hands to the crowd, which broke wild disorder while trying to protect their people, "was the most heroic act I have ever seen in my life. I have never through anything like that."

Major Hints at Recall of Langlie

REEDING, Jan. 5 (UPI)—Ben O. Magnuson, D. of Washington, at the possibility of being called in to Washington, D. C., to appear before the Senate Select Committee on Small Business, said he had no idea what he would be called to do. He said he was informed of public views on a proposed canyon dam and low voltage power line, but he had no time to think where he would be asked to make a speech. At the suggestion, he said, it made for publicity and that was not a political issue.

Dedication of New Church Scheduled Sunday

This new building of the Church of Ascension Episcopal will be dedicated Sunday at special services. The structure is located in the 200 block of Blue Lakes boulevard north. Still to be completed are installation of three stained glass windows in spaces left in front of building and landscaping. The Rev. E. Leslie Eads, rector of the church for 18 years, is scheduled to leave for a new post in California two days after the dedication. The dedication services will be his last here. (Staff photo-engraving)

Episcopal Church to Be Dedicated by Bishop of Idaho at Sunday Services

The Church of Ascension Episcopal will be dedicated at its new location on Blue Lakes boulevard north at 11 a.m. Sunday. The Rev. Mr. Robert A. Rhea, Episcopal bishop of Idaho, will conduct the services, and present the dedicatory sermon.

The occasion will mark the final appearance of the Rev. E. Leslie Eads as rector of the church. After 12 years in Twin Falls, the Rev. Mr. Rhea will leave two days later for Delano, Calif., to become vicar of the Episcopal Church of the Ascension.

The bishop will lead the choir in procession opening the services. During the procession the congregation will join the choir in reading the 122nd psalm.

A litany will be read by the bishop. The congregation responded "Amen" to the litany, readings and the blessing of the windows which follow.

The congregation will respond in the presentation of the dedicatory prayer by the bishop. A hymn and the Rev. Mr. Rhea's sermon will follow.

Officiant, closing prayers and a hymn will conclude the services.

The church building was moved from Second and Third avenues north to its new location and remodeled at a cost of about $35,000.

Rev. Mr. Rhea said an effort was made to the church and its exterior walls veneered with brick.

The first Episcopal services in Twin Falls were held Aug. 3, 1906, in the schoolroom of the Rev. Mr. James Bowen Turner, Episcopal bishop of the state. In 1907, construction of the church began.

Site for the church on Blue Lakes boulevard north was purchased in 1909. The move began last June.

Merchants Urged to Improve Role in Activities of Bureau

Efforts to boost membership and participation in the Retail Merchants' Bureau are announced by Bert Sweet, Jr., chairman.

Participation is especially important this year, Sweet declares, as in major of the bureau's city-wide promotions will be keyed to the Twin Falls tract's 50th anniversary.

Merchants are invited to promote the city through special promotions and celebrations. These promotions are arranged at the weekly Monday noon meetings. Merchants who do not attend the meetings have little or no voice in the promotion programs, Sweet notes.

The informal meetings are held at the Rogerson hotel. Sessions are devoted to promotional problems and promotion programs. No membership fee is charged.

All merchants are invited to attend. "The bureau cannot be successful without every merchant's cooperation and participation," Sweet said.

Speaker Defends Aluminum Firms

YAKIMA, Wash., Jan. 5 (AP)—A spokesman for Kaiser Aluminum and Chemical corporation has defended the industry in the Pacific northwest, claiming it has helped keep power rates low and prevented waste of irreplaceable power.

A speech to the Yakima Chamber of Commerce by Robert A. Sandberg, manager of Kaiser's northwest public relations office, was obviously Kaiser's reply to criticism by Holland Johnson, Gov. Langlie's power adviser.

Houston, testifying before the federal power commission at the Hells Canyon hearings in Washington last month, said the aluminum industry was "the most efficient producer of electricity in the country."

Sandberg contended the industry now contributes to the livelihood of more than 200,000 persons in the northwest.

Tried

REY WEST, Fla., Jan. 5 (AP)—A man slashed his throat, cut off his tongue, cut out his right eye, drove a kitchen knife into his left eye, then plunged it into his brain Monday and remained unconscious.

The man was identified as Joseph Linder, 32, a 32-year-old part-time postoffice employee.

Dr. Herman K. Moore, who examined Linder in a hospital, said he was in a miracle that he still lived.

Policeman Edward Ramirez

said Linder, a coast guard and army veteran, was known as a religious fanatic.

Wife of Ex-POW Writing Friend To Urge Return

TOKYO, Jan. 5 (UPI)—A wife who had been held captive by her husband—now released—has written to friends in the United States.

Madame Kondo, 22, Kermie, Tex., joined the going hard.

"It's not easy to write that as I am," she writes. "I am still here."

"But Claude says I should write him to come back and maybe would help him to get his friends to come back."

Madame Kondo still has not been released from an army hospital in Tokyo where she is undergoing a medical checkup.

The number of Japanese U.S. POWs was reduced from 25,000 in 1943 to around 6,500 in 1944.

Hot Fruit Muffin Recipe Specialty Of Mrs. Stafford
Hot weather means the family will be having an everyday meal is to go to the kitchen. Roger Stafford discovered the recipe in a magazine one evening when she was looking for something new in the kitchen. She made and found that her children like them hot or cold for between-meals snacks. The muffins are filled with little bits of cranberries and just spreads well with butter and they are ready to eat.

Cranberry Muffins
The ingredients are 2 cups flour, 2 teaspoons baking powder, $\frac{1}{2}$ teaspoon salt, 2 tablespoons sugar, 1 cup milk, 2 to 3 tablespoons beaten shortening, $\frac{1}{2}$ tablespoon cranberry chopped com, 1 cup sugar.

First flour and measure, then add baking powder, salt and sugar. Combine the egg, milk and shortening, which has been cooled. Add the cranberry sugar combination to the powdered dry ingredients. The powdered milk mixture contains flour and just enough dry ingredients to coat dry ingredients. Do not beat. Fill greased muffin tins two-thirds full and bake in an oven at 400 degrees for 20 to 25 minutes.

We, the Women

By BUTH MILLETT
They have been married for 31 years and their children are all grown and gone from home. In her first pages to tell of her husband's faults—all of them adding up to the fact that he is just too good to live with. She still makes time for him, however, to have him, pays little attention to what she says to him, and he has quite a few faults of his own.

It doesn't sound much alike a man who really wants his husband's company and a really nice a guy married. It sounds like a woman who enjoys finding fault with her husband and likes like a martyr for putting up with him. It also sounds as though she would rather be alone than try to find a real companion of whom she would like to have.

She's quite the woman who really wanted to have her husband from a silent desire to be a real companion would up to the point of going on a trip with him.

She would get out travel folders and get him interested in making a trip. And then she may be exactly the same as the husband she's married to and when he suggested the trip, she'd say something like that it would be a good idea.

She would enjoy the trip and help him enjoy it. And they would certainly have something to talk about if they were busy seeing new things.

She'd have something to talk about for a while, after they got to it, too. And then she may be exactly the same as the husband she's married to and when he suggested the trip, she'd say something like that she will do if she wants to live with a sulky, silent in the rest of her life.

New Panel for Project Check To Be Named

IDAHO FALLS, Jan. 5 (AP)—The Pacific Northwest governors' power policy committee will set up an engineer-subcommittee to reassess the proposed Columbia river dams when it meets here next week.

Gov. Len Jordan said Monday that it would be the principal business of the Columbia river basin interagency committee will meet in the afternoon of the same day and hear the Army engineers' proposal for dams at Bruce and Penny cuffs on the Clearwater river in North Idaho.

Other Far West—Members of the Columbia basin compact committee will be in on the two meetings, hold subcommittee meetings Jan. 14, and a full committee meeting Jan. 15.

The engineering subcommittee, Jordan said, will consider the materials in the Army engineers' 308 report on the basin and other data which have become available since that report was issued.

It will have the duty of drawing up a priority list for future basin projects.

How to Determine Which Projects are Best—Jordan said, "Some are better for power while others are better for flood control. We hope to get a group of engineers—not federal as well as federal—to re-examine all information and bring it up to date."

He said the tentative proposal of five northwest power companies to develop power at the two proposed Clearwater river dams undoubtedly would be discussed.

Burley Meets Rupert, Buhl Battles Oakley as Big 7 Conference Begins Action

The Twin Falls Bruins won't swing back into action until Wednesday but there'll be plenty of other basketball in the valley Tuesday night with 14 teams slated to get back into action after the long holiday layoff. The Big Seven conference will begin play with two standout games on tap. The Burley Bobcats travel to Rupert for an 8:30 p.m. game with the Pirates while the Oakley Hornets host the Buhl Indians in another 8:30 p.m. fray.

Three other Big Seven members, Jerome, Shoshone and Gooding, are idle until Friday.

The Burley-Pupert, Oakley-Buhl games will give some indication of how much opposition the Jerome Tigers' early-season choice to copy the Buhl Indians' conference alignment have for the remainder of the season.

In class B play, the Hagerman Pirates entertain the Shoshone Indians, who should be another notch better.

Murtaugh travels to Heyburn, Gooding State plays at Bliss, Carey entertains Mackay and the Jerome Jaycees play at District in other games.

The Bruins of Twin Falls get back into action on Wednesday against the Shoshone Indians in a game set for the new Buhl high school gym.

The schedule:

Burley at Rupert
Buhl at Oakley
Gooding State at Bliss
Shoshone at Hagerman
Mackay at Carey
Carey at Heyburn
Jerome Jaycees at District
Twin Falls at Buhl

Ducks Juggle Lineup for Loop Opener

BUCKEY, Jan. 3 (UPI) — Oregon and Idaho, considered the two best basketball teams in the Northwest, hope to open the 1964 northern division basketball season here tonight.

Bad odds on Oregon's part of two squad members inflicting ankles. Ken Wagner, the Ducks' leading scorer in the non-conference season, is limping from an injury incurred in Sunday's 74-70 win over the University of Wyoming.

Another reported Wagner will be able to start the game with his ankle taped.

Jerry Ross, originally scheduled to play forward, has his ankle so bad he probably will not play in the two-game Pacific Coast conference opener.

Because of the two injuries, the Oregon team, which has won 10 of its 12 games, will start as forwards, Mike Anderson at center and Barney Holland and Howard Page at guard. Originally it was planned to have Ross in place to replace Anderson and Wagner instead of Page at guard.

If Wagner's ankle won't hold up, Bob Stoll, Ken Dorwin and Ray Bell will replace him at forward. If Ross is out, he will be replaced in the two-game Pacific Coast conference opener.

Horcher announced Monday that Wagner had been elected team captain. He succeeds co-captains Chet Now, Mike Farnam, who have been graduated.

Coach Chuck Finley's Idaho team, with a record of six wins in seven starts, arrived here by plane Monday.

Finley said he will start Hansen and Tom Flynn forward, while Bob Faish and either C. W. Totten or Bob Garrison as guards.

Voting Begins for Hall of Fame

NEW YORK, Jan. 3 (UPI) — About 200 members of the National Writers Association, the Hall of Fame, will be elected by 10-year members of the Baseball Writers association. The results are expected to be announced in mid-January. The ballots will be opened until that time.

Voting is restricted, under change in the rules, to players active from 1924 through 1948, with three exceptions. Eddie Stanky, Ted Williams and Bill Dickey were excepted because they received 100 or more votes in the 1958 balloting before the rules were changed.

With Dresen Gone, Who Will Manage National Loop in All-Star Tussle?

BY GALE TALBOT

NEW YORK, Jan. 3 (UPI) — You know what his problem facing president Warren Dresen of the National League in the new year is a manager for his league in its annual all-star tussle against the hated Americans at Cleveland?

It's going to require some tall thinking. By the time the All-Stars would have fallen to Charlie Dressen, who managed the league champion Brooklyn Dodgers, the Charlie is long gone out to Oakland in the Coast. He's been replaced by a young pile of bones, or he'd fire him since the summer classic was thought up.

The Dodgers have an incoming manager named Walter Alston who is fresh from the minor leagues but the pants still wet. He will manage his first big game next April. He had nothing what else to do with Brooklyn's winning bid, so he's been given a job more or less to Elated field than Montreal. It is difficult to see how he rates the coveted all-star assignment against Casey Stengel, the man in the league's permanent guest artist.

What then are the alternatives offered Gileas? Well, there's Dresen, and no one can rise up and say he's not a good manager. He's got the job of driving his team to the pennant, no matter what happened in the world series, and no matter how many letters he might have on his resume. Walter O'Malley, his club's president, has given Gileas a blank round robin to ask him yet, but Chuck has to be our choice for at least a piece of the all-star job. For sentimental purposes, nothing else, we feel that the National League should be represented.

Kentucky Stays In Top Cage Spot

NEW YORK, Jan. 5 (UPI) — College basketball's "big three" — Kentucky, Indiana and Duquesne — continued to lead the United Press ratings in that order, but there were four newcomers in the nation's top 10 teams.

Holy Cross, Western Kentucky, Kansas and Rice moved into the select group as Oregon State, North Carolina State, Fordham and Brigham Young dropped out.

Coach Adolph Rupp's Wildcats, winners of seven straight this season, received 22 first place votes from 24 coaches. Indiana, which made it to the United Press rating board and a total of 229 points, but both second place Indiana and third place Duquesne gained ground in the latest poll over the week.

Indiana, which has won seven of its eight starts, received five first place votes and 287 points while Duquesne, on an 11 game winning streak, received six first place votes from 24 coaches. Ohio State, which had been picked up six points on Kentucky, Duquesne 22.

Oklahoma A and M with a 12-1 record, received the next two first place votes and 280 points each. They also moved up to fourth and jumped from 11th to fourth place with 224 points while Minnesota, winner of eight out of nine, advanced a spot from sixth to fifth with 165 points.

Kentucky, with eight consecutive victories, made the biggest advance of the week, jumping from 11th to sixth place. Western Kentucky, which had been ninth with a 10-3 record, advanced from 11th to seventh place.

Kansas jumped from the tie for 18th to 12th place. Duquesne, which had dropped from seventh to ninth and Rice advanced from 14th to 10th.

Oregon State dropped from fourth to 10th after losing two games in the Dixie Classic last week. North Carolina State, which had been 10th, moved up to 12th; Fordham from ninth to 21st and Brigham Young from 10th to 11th for 26th place.

Following Oregon State, Duquesne, Niagara, UCLA, Tadala and N. G. State (tied for 16th place), Navy, Oklahoma City University, and California (in that order).

The 10th place team is the University of Illinois, which has

The NCAA executive committee met Monday to make final arrangements for the round-table and general sessions later this week.

Meanwhile, Lou Little, a humble, 5-foot-6 coach of coaches ruled committee, came in with the news that a questionnaire circulated among the coaches had brought an overwhelming response in favor of the new basketball substitution rule.

A good many favored some modification, such as allowing two or three substitutions at a time but not "platoons" and another favored eliminating the four-minute period for the end of each half.

The two-platoon system, voted out last year, was a poor third in the voting.

The ball was declared dead because when before fumble, The West won the Shrine classic 31-7. (AP wirephoto)

Most Coaches Indicate Liking of One-Platoon

CINCINNATI, Jan. 5 (UPI) — In spite of the pained expressions worn by some die-hard coaches here, there is little likelihood that a change in the football substitution rule will be recommended this year by the American Football Coaches association. Tuesday's all-day session of the AFCA ruling committee, which is empowered only to make recommendations to the national committee, is the first big event of the week of meetings which has drawn more than 1,200 college athletic leaders here.

Xavier Rally Falls Short 'Cats Win 77

LEXINGTON, Ky., Jan. 5 (UPI) — Kentucky, the nation's top football team, survived a last-minute rally Monday night as the Ohio team 77-77 and in 11th straight home for Kentucky led by 22 points.

The 5-point victory made the smallest over a home in the new Memorial Coliseum January, 1951, when the whippoorwill, DePaul 63-58.

Kentucky, which had a 10-1 record through 11 games, will look as if it meant to beat the Musketeers early, leading at the first quarter. But the space-walk Wildcat score seemed to be the end of the rally, and outpointed 24-19 in the third to trail.

The Musketeers tied in the fourth and kept the game on outside sharpshooting of Bob Helm, who won up 10 points for his 18.

Capoital Cliff Harkrucker, who was high in point with 30, The other players, including Jim Wilcox, found themselves going in the round, wound up with 18 points.

Xavier outfit the Wildcat exchange more than a polite how-do-do.
